ALDRICH CORPORATION TAX LAW IS PASSED IN SENATE AND FINAL PASSAGE OF THE INIQUITOUS MEASURE BEGINS

PROGRESSIVES ARE POWERLESS NOW

Every Attempt to Amend is Voted Down and Pledges to the People Are Over-riden Ruthlessly

TO ALLOW NO ADJOURNMENT

Seven O'clock Adjournment Rule Is Suspended and Standpatters Prepare to Force Issue

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—By a vote of 52 to 25, the senate this afternoon adopted the complete tobacco schedules in the form in which they were originally reported by the finance committee.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—The senate this morning finally passed the corporation tax amendment on a viva voce vote. There were only a few scattering noes. The amendment was agreed to in committee of the whole last Friday on a vote of 60 to 11.

Promise of a continuous session of the senate until the final passage of the tariff bill by that body was given by Chairman Aldrich of the finance committee today. It took the form of a motion that the rule providing arbitrarily for adjournment at seven o'clock each evening be revoked. His motion was carried and the way was cleared for an unlimited session of the senate to be terminated either by the passage of the bill or by special vote to adjourn.

Amendments Defeated.—An amendment by Senator Daniel of Virginia, providing that the corporation tax should be one-fourth per cent on the gross receipts over $20,000 of all corporations having over $200,000 capital stock was then taken up.

Bacon of Georgia offered an amendment to levy a tax on corporations having gross receipts of over $100,000. On Aldrich's motion both these Bacon and Daniel amendments were laid on the table.

An amendment offered by Gore of Oklahoma providing that the revenue from banks might be set aside as a security fund to make good the losses of depositors in wrecked banks was also laid on the table.

Similar action was taken on an amendment by Newlands (D., Nev.) to apply the tax only to corporations, associations and insurance companies whose receipts were $250,000.

CHAMPLAIN FETE GOES INTO VERMONT

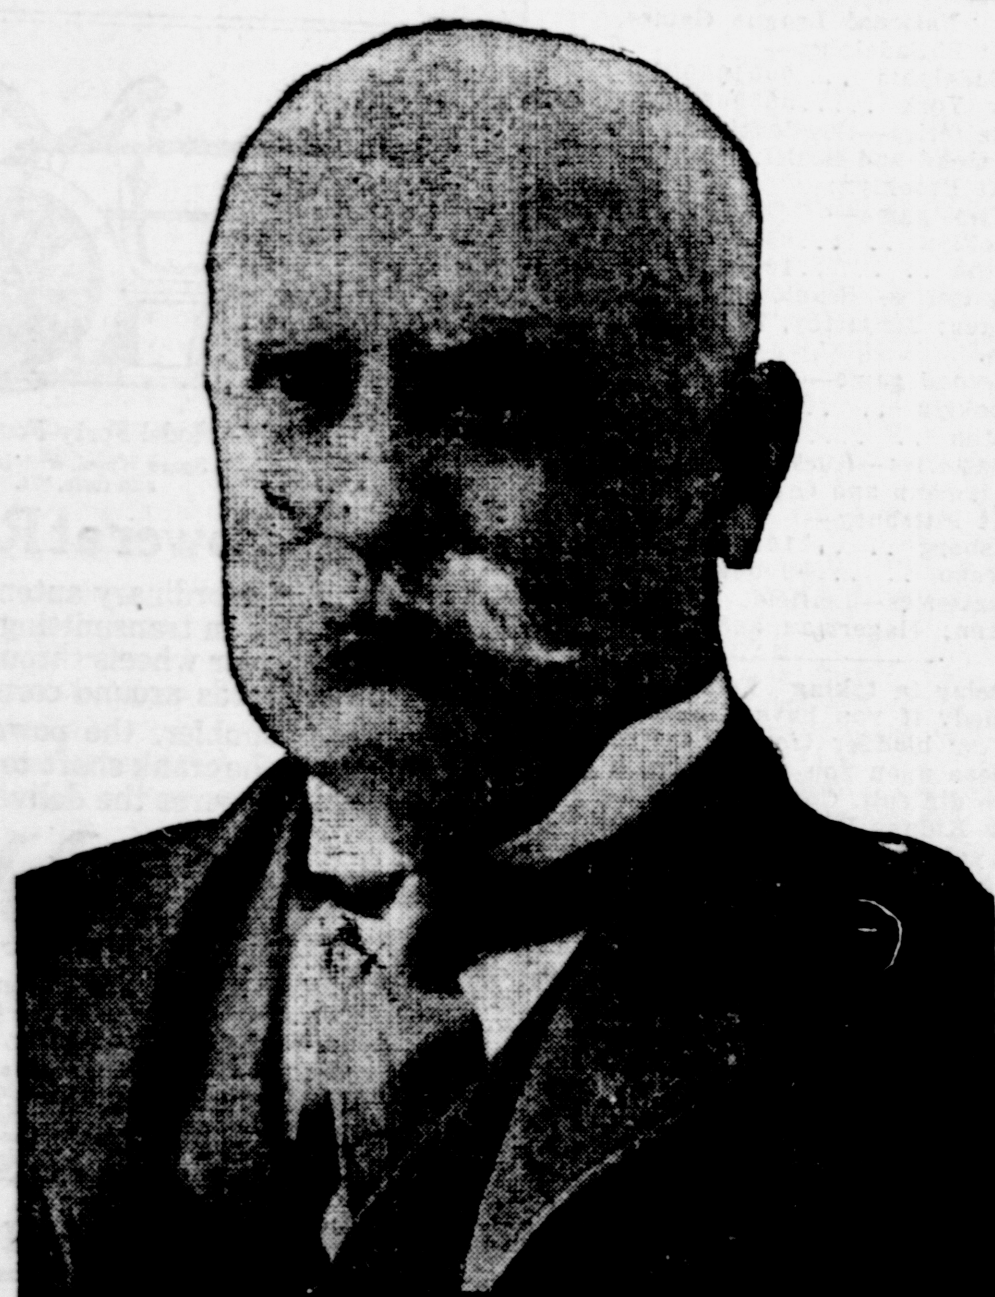

BURLINGTON, Vt., July 8.—From the shores of New York to the shores of Vermont the scenes in the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the discovery of Lake Champlain shifted today.

President Taft and his distinguished party, including Governor Hughes and Ambassadors Jusserand of France and Bryce of Great Britain came over this morning on the steamer Ticconderoga.

The Indian pageant in which Hiawatha was given was the feature of the afternoon. The presidential party will visit the points of interest this afternoon and tonight will attend a banquet.

CHRIST ENTHRONED.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 8.—The work of the Epworth League international convention began today. The forenoon was devoted to a discussion of the topic "Christ Enthroned Among Men." The chief addresses were delivered by Bishops H. W. Warren, Edward H. Hughes, and Rev. John A. Doyle of Regina, Sask.

NELSON W. ALDRICH, BOSS OF THE UNITED STATES SENATE, WHO IS FORCING THROUGH AN UPWARD REVISION OF THE TARIFF IN DEFIANCE OF AN ALMOST UNIVERSAL POPULAR SENTIMENT FOR DOWNWARD REVISION, AND IN VIOLATION OF THE PLATFORM PLEDGES OF HIS PARTY.

SHOT BY BURGLAR FIGHTING HER SON

Wife of Wealthy New Yorker Shot Down When She Rushes to Her Son's Aid

NEW YORK, July 8.—Struggling to save her son's life Mrs. Sophia Staber, wife of George Staber, a wealthy importer, was shot to death by a burglar today in her home, 455 East Eighteenth street, in the fashionable Flatbush section. The shot that killed his mother passed the shirt of George Staber and the burned powder singed his face. Young Staber was awakened by the rattling of a window as the burglar climbed in. He climbed downstairs and told them to leave but was ordered to stand at the point of a revolver. Instead he leaped for the burglar and grappled with him. The scuffle awakened Mrs. Staber, who rushed downstairs screaming: "For God's sake, George, take care of yourself."

The burglar wrestled himself free of the young man and throwing his revolver over Staber's shoulder, fired point blank at the woman. He then turned and fled.

Young Staber, dazed, tried to follow, but was stopped by a fusillade of shots from the man's companion, who stood in the rear of the house. As the burglar ran he dropped his revolver and the boy securing it emptied the five shots it contained after the fleeing man. One of them took effect, for the man's trail through the house was marked with blood.

Mrs. Staber died before a doctor could be summoned.

The police have arrested a man in Brooklyn whom they are sure is the murderer of Mrs. Staber. At 10:30 o'clock a policeman found an Italian in almost corner. He had a bullet wound through his left arm and the loss of blood had so weakened the man that he could not even talk enough to give his name. The man whom young Staber fired at is supposed to have been struck in the arm.

Two men are under arrest. They are John Smith and Carlo Gree. Smith is wounded in the arm and leg. Both of the men, the police declare, admit they were implicated in the burglary of the Staber home but neither of them will admit the actual shooting.

Smith declares he was acting as the lookout outside the house at the time he was shot. What was Gree's connection with the crime the police refuse to state, although declaring that both men have confessed. The police are seeking a third man believed to have been implicated.

BEGIN PROBE OF SCHOOL TUESDAY

Superintendent Will Not Be Suspended Unless Gross Negligence Is Early Shown

MADISON, Wis., July 8.—(Special.)—The state board of control today decided to begin the investigation of the Green Bay reformatory next Tuesday. One member of the board believes the investigation will last longer than a week, but said unless gross negligence was early shown, Bowron would not be suspended, pending an investigation. Although the term of all superintendents of institutions has expired, it has been decided not to elect any until after the investigation. Matt Tappins was elected secretary of the board. He has held the position for eighteen years.

COLOMBIAN REBELS ARE NOW IN CONTROL

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The state department received a dispatch today from Elliott Northcote, minister to Colombia, who is apparently at Barranquilla, the scene of the outbreak of the Colombian revolutionists. In his dispatch, which is dated July 5, he reports that partisans of Gen. Valencia began fighting the day before and crowds soon entered the city which they captured together with one of the gunboats in the river. The revolutionary army is now in full possession. Officials of the government have been arrested and imprisoned and revolutionary officials have been installed in their places.

Americans now at Barranquilla are reported to be in no danger.

IS MR. ROCKEFELLER ABOUT TO RETIRE?

CLEVELAND, July 8.—Is John D. Rockefeller about to retire from active business?

He left hurriedly for New York today, and his failure to spend this, his seventieth birthday, at his summer residence here has given rise to conjectures.

No statement has been secured, but it is conjectured that he may be about to give up work.

J. OLE STOREY IS VISITING IN CITY

J. Ole Storey, the former well known La Crosse resident, now one of the most prosperous lumbermen on the coast, arrived in the city last night and will spend a few days in the city visiting friends and ransacking business. Mr. Storey reports business in the west booming and predicts a great year for that section of the country.

BAUM CASE IS NON-SUITED TODAY

Judge Higbee Holds Street Car Company Did Not Show Willful Neglect

BUGGY STRUCK BY A CAR

George W. Baum Sought to Recover, but Court Rules Against Plaintiff

George W. Baum of the North side drove across the tracks of the La Crosse and Onalaska Street Railway company after dark one evening last January and while attempting to extricate the wheels of his buggy he was struck by a street car and thrown from the vehicle, receiving serious injuries. The accident occurred near the corner of Loomis and Livingston streets. Ben Bright and Rollie Bright, two small boys who were riding with him, were also thrown out and sustained minor bruises. The carriage was demolished.

In circuit court this morning the case was non-suited by Circuit Judge E. C. Higbee on the grounds that the complaint set forth that the company was guilty of willful negligence, and the court held that no willful negligence was shown in the evidence.

The motorman who was running the car at the time of the accident swore that owing to the darkness of the night and the dimness of his headlights, which at this time was out of order and barely glowed, he did not see the plaintiff until he was within fifty feet of him and still running at a speed of about eighteen miles per hour. He then put on his brakes and reversed his car, but was unable to bring it to a stop until he had struck the vehicle and passed it by four car lengths.

Boy Is Good Witness.—The star witness of the morning was little Rollie Bright, aged 12, who was with Baum in the buggy when the accident occurred. When asked by the court if he knew what it meant to take the witness' oath, the little fellow replied that he did, that it meant that he must tell the truth and that if he failed to do so he would be telling a lie. He said he would be punished if he told a lie.

Rollie told the court a graphic story of the accident and despite the efforts of the attorneys for the defense to shake his testimony by rapid cross questions stuck to his tale.

He said that it took them over four seconds to get loose from the tracks where the wheel of the buggy was caught and the car overtook them before they were able to get away.

Woodward and Lees appeared for the traction company and Attorney Frank Withrow, represented the plaintiff.

BRYAN AND JOHNSON TAKE AUTO RIDE

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 8.—The Christian Endeavor convention today brought Gov. John A. Johnson and Wm. J. Bryan into a seeming peace pact.

Mr. Bryan arrived to address the Endeavors. Gov. Johnson, recently scored in the Commoner by Mr. Bryan, for vetoing the ore tax passed by the Minnesota legislature, drove in his automobile to the Ryan hotel, and asked Mr. Bryan to take a ride with him. Mr. Bryan, outwardly all cordiality, acquiesced, and Gov. Johnson, acting as his own chauffeur, took the Nebraska on a sight-seeing tour. Frank Day and Mayor Lawler accompanied them. Afterward there was an informal reception at the hotel and much pleasant exchange of conversation.

WANTS TO SELL BABY FOR $500

NEW YORK, July 8.—A really, truly baby, with bright blue eyes and a shock of black hair—and as sturdy a pair of lungs as ever cheered a midnight floor walker marathon, is for sale. Five hundred dollars or the best offer.

The baby's name is Tommy Beach and he lives with his father, his nineteen-year-old mother and two little stepisters in a stuffy hall room on the second floor of an Eighth avenue tenement. Milk is a necessity for two weeks old babies—Tommy is two weeks old—and Tommy's papa cannot afford to buy milk. So he plans to get a good home for Tommy and at the same time—if Tommy will—bring $500—to help out the others.

FLOOD DANGER IS MORE GRAVE TODAY

Train Near Kansas City Goes Into River and Refugees Cannot Extricate Themselves

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 8.—Scores of people, rendered homeless, three persons reported drowned, and a property loss estimated at three-quarters of a million dollars, is the result of a flood which swept through the heart of Springfield last night. Rain began falling at 6 o'clock and continued throughout the night. In the wholesale and manufacturing district the water stood five feet deep in many buildings. Several houses in the east portion of the city were washed away and it was necessary to rescue the occupants in boats.

It is reported a Frisco freight train went into the river near Rogersville, the bridge having been washed away. This report has not been verified.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 8.—Rescue parties and a rescue train sent to help a Santa Fe passenger which was wrecked yesterday when four coaches slid off the embankment into 18 feet of flood water near the Marias des Cygnes river near Pomona, are reported in grave danger today. The passenger was slowly making its way over the Emporia cutoff to avoid the danger of floods on the main line. The water over the tracks at Pomona was two feet deep. The track, weakened by the flood, gave way and the cars turned over into the water.

All the passengers with the exception of two women and a child climbed out of the coaches as the cars toppled over. These women, Misses Laura and Nannie St. Clair, of Boston, climbed out with the aid of passengers after the cars were in the water. Both were severely bruised. The 4 year old daughter of Carrie Rose was killed.

The passengers who escaped were forced to stand in water and could not make their way to Pomona, nearly a mile away. With one boat and some hastily constructed rafts the people of Pomona tried to aid the wreck victims. One of the crafts went to pieces and the rescuers managed to climb into a tree.

A relief train that went into the flood was forced to go back for boats and ropes. Today it is reported that the train is stalled near the wreck and it is said that both trains and passengers are in danger from the water which is still rising.

Flood danger throughout Kansas is great today. The Kansas river is at flood stage at Topeka and reported rising.

At Kansas City the water is still rising. Tracks have been washed out and train service throughout Kansas and Missouri is demoralized.

Three Dead in St. Louis.—ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 8.—Three persons have been drowned and a property loss of $100,000 has been caused by floods in the vicinity of St. Louis.

The dead: Mrs. Bertha Cassanova, Frank Cassanova, 6; George P. Heuckel, 12.

The three were in a wagon with Louis Bayles and Wm. Pierce near Alton. At dusk yesterday they tried to ford Gravois creek. Half way across the stream a log struck the back wheels and locked them. A sudden rush of water overturned the wagon and only Pierce and Bayles escaped.

Relief Work Difficult.

PATTONSBURG, Mo., July 8.—A fleet of fifty rowboats and launches manned by rescue parties from Kansas City and St. Joseph is slowly working in the water filled streets of Pattonsburg today removing the marooned inhabitants from house to house, from upper story windows and from trees. Carefully the boats are making their way through the treacherous channels in the streets and landing the rescued people at the edge of the flood. There they are being taken to the hills and higher grounds where tents have been erected.

At darkness last night much of the rescue work was forced to stop. The dangers of the flood were so great that rescuers could do little.

Provisions Arriving.

By roundabout ways provisions are being taken to the camps, doctors are coming and the sufferers are being fed and cared for. By night, unless there should be a sudden rise in the water, or some accident occur, it is believed that all the people of the little town will be taken to higher grounds.

EROTIC CLASSICS BASIS OF HORROR

State Will Try to Prove that Ella Gingles is Victim of Aberration Due to Reading Sexual Works

GIRL'S STORY IS SUPPORTED

Evidence Introduced to Show That She Told the Truth About Bath Room Horror

CHICAGO, July 8.—John W. Kern, of Indianapolis, democratic candidate for vice president last fall, who has represented Thomas Taggart in a number of legal cases, appeared at the criminal court building at 2 p. m. He immediately went into consultation with State's Attorney Wayman. Kern declined to state whether he was in Chicago in connection with the Gingles case.

CHICAGO, July 8.—As soon as court opened in the case of Ella Gingles today the defense continued the introduction of testimony to support Miss Gingles' story. Several minor witnesses testified regarding incidents connected with the charge of larceny against the defendant. Mrs. Linderman, with whom Miss Gingles boarded when she alleges she was attacked on the night of January 4, corroborated a large part of the girl's testimony especially that referring to her condition after the alleged attack. The defense also promises to introduce several club women to support the girl's testimony.

The state expects to introduce testimony through Dr. Krone to support its contention that the whole horrible story told by Miss Gingles in which she charged Miss Agnes Barrette, Mrs. Cecelia Kenyon and unknown men with terrible crimes against her, is a figment of the girl's imagination. Short indicated his line of testimony just before adjournment yesterday when he questioned Miss Gingles closely regarding "erotic literature," he alleged she had read. Miss Gingles alleged that her abusers had used a knife to render impossible proof of her virtue, showing a wonderful knowledge of medical physiology, and Short says he expects to attack the girl's story on the ground that she is a monomaniac on the subject to which she has referred in her testimony and that she may have framed her story after reading the "erotic classics" of Geo. Reynolds and some such medical book as "Psychopathic Sexuals," a collection of reports by European scientists.

Dr. Krone examined Miss Gingles at the time she was found bound and gagged in the Wellington Hotel and his report to the state's attorney expressed the opinion that the attacks to which she testified did not occur and that she herself was the primary agent in inflicting the wounds which were shown on her body.

Despite the fact that Miss Gingles was excused at the end of yesterday's session, there was another big crowd in court. The story told by the girl has aroused the interest of psychologists here and many of them were present today.

Says Girl was Hysterical.—Mrs. Linderman testified that when Miss Gingles returned home on the night of January 4 last after the alleged attack in the Wellington hotel, her hair was wet and matted and she was hysterical. She told Mrs. Linderman that "they had done something awful to her."

Witness was then asked to tell what she saw at the Wellington hotel on February 16, the morning Miss Gingles was found bound and gagged.

She declared she saw Miss Gingles partly clothed in a room of the hotel and she was apparently delirious. Witness said the girl was waving her hands about and crying out: "Oh, Miss Barrette, please don't kill me. Don't give me any more of that stuff to drink. I'll do what you want but don't make me drink any more of that."

Witness also declared the girl was bleeding from many cuts on her wrists, arms and legs and that there were pieces of ropes and cordage in the room. This testimony was introduced in corroboration of that of Miss Gingles regarding the alleged attack in the bath room.

Never Saw Books

The prosecutor also led up to the introduction of the "erotic literature," to which he referred earlier in the day by asking the witness if she ever saw any "little red and yellow books" hidden in Miss Gingles' trunk. Witness said she had not.

COURT ADJOURNS

Circuit court adjourned this afternoon until Saturday when minor cases will be heard by the court, the jurors being excused until July 13th, when the regular trial of jury cases will be resumed.

BIG EARTHQUAKE SHOCK FELT AND MESSINA HORROR MAY BE OUTDONE

India and Asia Scene of Destruction the Extent of Which Cannot Be Learned as Yet

PARIS REPORTS BIG SHAKE

Ohio Observatory Also Records Earthquake of Great Intensity Somewhere in the Far East

PARIS, July 8.—Dispatches received in Paris indicate that a terrific earthquake occurred this morning throughout India and Asia. The first shock was felt at 3 a. m. at Rawal Pindi, the capital of the Rawal Pindi district, and extended through that district and into the Chitral district. The shock also was felt at Iskardo, the capital of Bultistan. It is known that many houses were thrown down by the shocks, but the loss of life is still unknown and details are lacking.

Reports from Asiatic Russia declare that the seismograph at Tashkend recorded a severe earthquake this morning which seemed to center about Hindu Kush in Central Asia. Many houses were destroyed and much damage done by the earthquake at Kerki and Katti-Kurgan in Turkestan and in Khoakan, Asiatic Russia. The seismograph at Hamburg, Germany, shows that the shock was more violent than the Messina earthquake. It is impossible to secure details.

Quake Observed in Ohio.

CLEVELAND, O., July 8.—Father Odenbach at his observatory at St. Ignatius college today reports having watched his seismograph record a severe earthquake wave lasting one hour. Father Odenbach estimates that it was 4,000 or 5,000 miles away.

At that hour thousands of inhabitants of southern Italy, who had deserted their cities, were crowded into camps in the open fields waiting to see their homes destroyed by a repetition of the Messina disaster. Italian experts declared the most severe earthquake shock Italy has experienced would occur today. Many fled from their houses to places of safety in country districts.

Father Odenbach said: "It was just such a quake apparently as is reported to have been predicted in Italy. I do not believe, however, that any scientist of reputation would predict an earthquake on any specified day."

"The spots in which I would think it most likely the quake could have done most damage which would not yet have been reported is south Europe, for instance parts of Spain or islands in the Pacific. Hawaii would be just about the right distance."

Father Odenbach's instruments have recorded accurately all the earthquakes of recent years, both

KLING TO REMAIN WITH THE CUBS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 8.—Johany Kling, the former Chicago National baseball catcher, said yesterday when shown a dispatch from New York reporting that he was to become manager of the Brooklyn club:

"This is all news to me. I know nothing about such a deal. I will not play baseball this year. This is final."

Trade is Rumored

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 8.—Manager Chance received a report here that a deal was on between the Chicago and Brooklyn clubs involving the trade of Kling and Zimmerman for Burch and Bergen. The only notice Chance took of the rumor was to say that neither he nor Murphy knew anything about it, or any deal with the Brooklyn club.

"It cured me," or "it saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures.

HOAGLAND WINS GOLF MATCH.

CHICAGO, July 8.—In a thirty-six hole match for $100 a hole, Ralph Hoagland of the Riverside Golf club defeated J. D. Cady of the Rock Island Golf club, 8 up, on the Rock Island Arsenal links yesterday and won $500 on the match. Cady, who was in poor form owing to a soreness in his right hand, started the match by winning, but after that he steadily dropped behind. A return match on the Riverside links July 25 has been arranged.

ED REULBACH SERIOUSLY ILL.

CHICAGO, July 8.—Mordca Brown and Ed Reulbach, the Cubs' star pitchers, will not join the team during their present series in Philadelphia. Reulbach who has been ill with ptomaine poisoning, is able to sit up today, but will not join the team for ten days. Mrs. Brown, the wife of the famous pitcher, has showed little signs of improvement, and Brown declares he will not leave her until she is entirely out of danger.

RESCUER LOSES LIFE.

HEALDSBURG, Cal., July 8.—Harry Buchanan, a 13 year old youth, lost his life trying to save that of his brother in their burning home. A belated celebration of the Fourth caused the fire. Harry ran back into the building to save his brother Ernest, aged 8, and both were overcome by smoke.

The trouble with the people who are always prepared for the worst is that they are so disappointed it doesn't happen.

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 8.—In a game at which Dame Fortune presided, the horseshoe was finally handed to the Drillers, the fourteen inning contest being lost by La Crosse by the score of 4 to 3. It was one of the best games seen at Superior this year, the contest being snappy from the start and the batting of the visitors being one of the chief features. In spite of the fact that they secured 18 safe bingles, Klingebiel kept them so well scattered throughout the long contest that the Outcasts were able to score but three runs. The fielding of the Drillers was excellent and aided materially in keeping the score down. La Crosse fielded excellently, not an error being marked up against them. Watson was relieved by Pfeiffer, who pitched good ball. The Drillers were greatly outbatted, getting but eight hits in the fourteen innings. The score:

JOHNSON AVOIDING SAM LANGFORD

CHICAGO, July 8.—Stanley Ketchel can whip Jack Johnson but Jeffries and Johnson will never fight, the opinion of John L. Sullivan who is in town today on his way from Canada to New York. Sullivan thinks Sam Langford can whip either Ketchel or Johnson. "There must have been something wrong with the Papke-Ketchel fight," he said. "Papke had no license to go against Ketchel, who can whip Johnson good and plenty. He has the punch and his showing against Jack O'Brien showed he knows how to use it. Johnson knows Langford is a hot one and is sidestepping him. Langford is consistent, has the punch and knows the game. Kaufman is too slow so it is up to Ketchel and Langford to turn the trick."

FINAL MATCH TODAY

HENLEY, Eng., July 8.—The rowing club of the Nautique de Gand of Belgium and the Jesus college crew of Cambridge will row off the finals for the grand challenge cup here this afternoon. These two crews were the winners in the semi-finals and as the Belgians made it in seven seconds faster than the Cambridge men they are hot favorites for tomorrow's race.

The Belgian crew won from the crew of Magdalen college, Oxford in seven minutes, 12 seconds. Jesus beat Leander in 7 minutes, 19 seconds, over the same course.

IT IS UP TO MR. TAFT

Each day the Washington dispatches confirm to a greater certainty
the suspicion that congress is going to put through the atrocious Aldrich bill without material amendment, and as this suspicion grows,
the question of what President Taft will do with the law becomes more and more important in the eyes of the public.

In this connection a powerful eastern newspaper puts the matter straight up to the president. It says:

Prince Bismarck once remarked
of the late Marquis of Salisbury that he was a lath painted to look like iron. President Taft has yet to prove that this scathing criticism shall not be applied to him. He has the opportunity of making a demonstration
in the tariff matters now before congress, and certainly his remarks at Yale are of good augury.

He said there that the republican party must keep its promises. Senator Aldrich says in effect that there were no promises, but only the pretense of one which consequently is not going to be kept if he can help it.

The leader of the senate has dictated
his own terms in tariff bills before now, and Mr. Taft has his work cut out. It is hard for politicians of the Aldrich stripe to differentiate between tactical gains on the floor of the senate and the convincing of the independent voter outside. By a trick
the question of income tax is shelved,
and the fatuous regulars of the republican party in the senate hail
it as a victory. "Another such victory," said Pyrrhus, "and I return to Epirus without a single soldier."

If, however, Mr. Taft is in earnest, and Mr. Aldrich is not the president of the United States, he will veto the tariff bill in anything like its present form. This is the best he can do for the people of this country, but even
at that it restores the Dingley tariff.
The republican party was bound morally and by the word of every one of any consequence who made a speech in the last election, to reduce the indefensible rates enacted in the Dingley law.

There is such a thing as being too clever, and the republican party may at the next congressional election find out the disadvantages attaching to misdirected ability.

The thought of the newspaper quoted above is more pronounced and general here in the west than it is in the east. It will not be easy for the republican party to "fix" with the public, if the Aldrich bill becomes a law.

tions and cheap political claptrap,"

LA CROSSE THEATER BRINGS SUMMER STOCK COMPANY

The Williams Stock company has been secured by the management of the La Crosse theater for a short season of summer stock, at popular prices. The engagement begins next Sunday, July 11, with a matinee,
when the great western play, "No Mother to Guide Her," will be presented. It is a strong drama, with a true story, full of pathos, but relieved by good comedy, not a blood and thunder, shooting play, but one to be enjoyed. Musical numbers are introduced throughout. In the cast are a number of notable players, who are popular in several large cities.

Sam Meharry, who heads the list,
has been leading man for Ralph Stuart,
T. Daniel Frawley, Dick Perria
and for three years leading man at the Lyceum theater, Minneapolis. Mr.
Ezra Walck is direct from the Bijou theater, Chicago, and will at the close of the summer season, be starred in the great musical comedy, "A Stubborn Cinderella." John Collins,
the sweet singer, was a feature
this season with the big eastern success, "Quincy Adams Sawyer." Harry La Cour was leading juvenile with the Fisher Stock company of Sioux Falls, S. D. Elliot Hathaway this season was one of the principals in the eastern comedy, "A Bachelor's Honeymoon," and so on down the entire list of players.

The engagement begins Sunday
with a matinee and lasts eight days.
Popular prices, 10 and 15 cents,
will prevail. Seats on sale Saturday morning at usual place.

says Speaker Levi Bancroft in a speech conspicuously copied by the Leader-Press, and in which he expatriates upon the political activities which "create a public sentiment that looks upon the man who holds public office as a suspicious character."

Levi certainly has a right to complain of "the public sentiment which looks upon men who hold office as suspicious characters," for that sentiment has made no exception in his favor. He doubtless could recall, if he would, the fact that before he violated the anti-pass law and was kicked out of the La Follette administration, he was an ardent advocate of that "claptrap" of which he complains, the primary election law.
Doubtless it was that irregularity
which recommended him to his present masters, who may have found in him a promising tool upon the deduction that, "false in one thing, false in all."

Under the head of "political claptrap," no doubt, Levi includes such annoyances as investigating the campaign expenses of millionaire canodates, for since it became known that he handled a "bit" out of the Stephenson bundle, the strenuous
of his profane assaults upon the reform he once swore by has intensified.

It is reported that upon the occasion of the speech in question Levi
and certain other gentlemen partook of a banquet, and something in the situation, coupled with the Leader-Press' eager publication of the speech, when it, too, had peeled off $600 of the Stephenson roll, impells us to quote the following from the Wall Street Journal:

Some day some public spirited citizen with the instincts of a gentleman will earn more odium * * by refusing to sit down at the same table with such persons at a public banquet. Some day a number of decent gentlemen will get together and require the elimination of such men from their clubs. When that happens we are likely to see something in the nature of reform, and also to hear a chorus of "holier-than-thou"
sneers from certain well-known newspapers whose proprietors might find their opportunities for social enjoyment suddenly narrowed.

Merely Politeness.
Senator McEnery of Louisiana is rather hard of hearing, but it very polite. He tenaciously held his seat in the senate chamber while Senator Aldrich delivered a speech.
"I noticed you listened to Senator Aldrich very attentively," said a friend, after adjournment.
"How's that?" demanded Senator McEnery.

"You paid a great deal of attention to Senator Aldrich's speech!"
bawled the friend. Senator McEnery grinned.
"That reminds me of the story of the Creole down in Louisiana," Senator McEnery said. "He met a northern man named Brown in the hotel. Brown was ill. My Creole friend sympathized with him and when he left told Brown when he felt better to send around to his house and get his horse and carriage for a drive.

"In a few days Brown had recovered. He sent a boy around for the Creole's rig. 'Why, I haven't any horse or carriage,' said the Creole. 'But you told Mr. Brown to send around for them when he got well enough to drive out,' protested
the boy.
"Oh, hell, that was politeness," responded my Creole friend.

"The truth is, I didn't hear a word of Aldrich's speech."—New

A Triple Personality.

Dr. Clifford tells of an amusing adventure which happened on one occasion when he was conducting a mission service at Carr's Lane, Birmingham. Arriving only a few minutes before the commencement, the doctor was refused admission by the policeman at the door.
"I want to go in," said Dr. Clifford.
"Are you a seat holder?" asked the official.
"No, I am not."
"Then you can't go in."
"I think," remarked the famous passive resister, "that there will be room for me in the pulpit."
"I am not so sure of it," retorted
the other.
"But I am Dr. Clifford, and I am
due to preach in another minute and a half."
"Oh, are you?" said the incredulous policeman. "I have let in two Dr. Cliffords already."—London Telegraph.

Striking While the Iron Is Hot.

Little Ralph, an only child of 4,
had been permitted to stay up one evening when his parents had company. At the table he made a quaint remark, at which all the guests laughed. He instantly saw that he had made a hit, and with commendable enterprise sought to follow it up.

"Dad," he shouted, "what was that other smart thing I said yesterday?"—Woman's Home Companion.

Hello!

The whole southland never claimed a sweeter, more lovable and gentle woman, but she could never be persuaded to use a phone.

Lately the entire household was down with the gripe and there was no one else able to call a physician
in the night.
After ringing up "Central" this
dear little woman became panic-stricken and could not think of the word the household used when they wanted "Exchange." Hurriedly she put the receiver up and whispered
into the astonished ear of the telephone girl the word:
"Hurrah!"—Lippincott's.

Learned in Law but Not Letters

According to a Tennessee man
there was once a judge in the eastern section of the state, a man well versed in law, but entirely self-educated,
who had to contend with the principle of orthography all his life. In early life he had lived in Knoxville,
and for a long time he insisted upon spelling the name Knoxville.

Finally his friends educated him up to the point of adding the "K," so thoroughly, in fact, was the lesson learned that when, a few years afterward, he removed to Nashville, nothing could prevent him from spelling it Knashville.

Then some time later the judge removed again, this time to Murfreesboro. On the day that he began to write his first letter from this place
he scratched his head in perplexity,
and finally exclaimed:
"I give it up! How on earth can they spell the name of this place
with a 'K'?"—Louisville Post.

"I like my house all right," said Luschnan, "except for one thing. I guess you'll have to fix that."
"What is it?" asked the architect.
"Several times lately I've nearly broken my neck reaching for another step at the head of the stairs when I got home late, so I guess you'd better put another step there."—

TOMAH SCHOOLS ARE IN GOOD CONDITION

TOMAH, Wis., July 8.—(Special)
—The annual meeting of school district No. 1 of the city of Tomah was held on Tuesday evening, July 6.
Wm. S. Howes was elected for the seventh consecutive term of three years. Mr. Howes thanked the district for the honor and said that this would positively be his last term. The board of education is now as follows: Frank Drew, director; W. S. Howes, treasurer; H. B.
Sowle, clerk.

Last year $11,000 bonds were voted to pay for the new grounds purchased of the St. Mary's Catholic society, and for the addition to and remodeling of the Central school building. Owing to a technical error the bonds had not been issued,
although they had been sold at above $500 premium, and at the rate of 5 per cent. The error was corrected by a new resolution and the bonds will now be issued.

The estimated expenditures for the ensuing year were $22,274.07.
After deducting the income from state and county taxes, and from tuition, there was left $13,000 to be raised by the city, which levy was duly voted.

The school grounds of the city are now in the best of order. The land bought from St. Mary's Catholic society has been carefully graded and seeded along with the other grounds
belonging to the central grade school, now making a whole block of grounds there, which are among the most beautiful of the city. The grounds around the north primary too, have but recently been improved. Shrubbery and trees have been set out on the High school grounds, according to the plans of Mrs. Mc-Creia, and are doing nicely.

Plans are under way for reflooring and re-arranging the desks in some of the rooms in the central grade school building, to be done before school opens in the fall.

NO ACCIDENTS IN NATURE

Every Calamity, No Matter How Great, Has a Definite Beginning.

There are no accidents in nature.
The avalanche that without a moment's warning rushes headlong
down the mountain side is not an accident.

For years previous tiny atoms
have been crystalizing, and adding their minute weight to the mass which left its base when the accumulation reached a certain point.

Neither is baldness an accident.
The infinitesimally small germ which is the cause of Dandruff and Baldness, feeds silently and long before the result is seen.

The small germs which thrive on the scalp and which are the cause of Baldness and Dandruff cannot exist, however, when Newbro's Her-picide is applied.

Bleached
Bread

Causes Dyspepsia, Stomach Trouble, Gastritis.

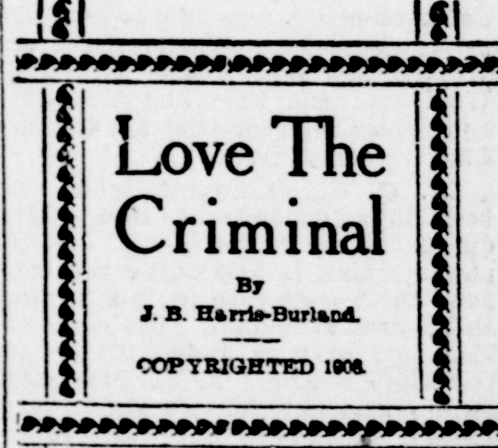

Government experts, after a most careful examination of Bleached Flour (the whitened kind generally in use), find it contains peroxide of nitrogen. The U. S.
Govt. Pure Food Commissioner has ruled "the bleaching of flour is a violation of the Pure Food Law of 1906 and will have to be discontinued." Never eat bread or pastry made of bleached flour. Don't wait to change. Do it now.

Use only MARVEL Unbleached Flour. It is made in the good, old-fashioned, natural way, unbleached, from Best Wheat, is pure and wholesome, and retains all the strength and nutrition in the wheat. It makes Bread, Cake and Pastry that is most palatable and healthful, and is far more economical for your use than bleached flour.

For sale by all grocers. When you buy baker's bread insist on its being made of MARVEL Flour. It costs no more, and is pure and healthful.

Listman Mill Company, La Crosse, Wis.

We are the only large Flour Millers in the U. S. that have never made a bleached flour, and our Company, one of the oldest and largest in the country, stands alone as the one large mill that has always been "Pure."

And self-destruction was so easy.
More than once he had fumbled his way to the desk which held a loaded revolver, and had taken the weapon in his hand. He had only to place the muzzle to his temple, pull the trigger, and lo! there would be an end to all the darkness and all the pain. No magician's wand was more wonderful than that slender tube of steel.

Yet he had hesitated. He had not been afraid of death, but afraid of what his death might mean to Laura Tankerlane. Each time he had seen her face in the darkness, and her eyes and lips had pleaded to him.
"Well," he said to himself as Dr.
Hardy left the room, "here is the last chance. I will see if a change of life is likely to do me good. If it does not, I shall know what to expect. I shall go mad and kill myself."

A fortnight later the Canewdon
Castle steamed slowly down Southampton Water, and swung westward
on her journey to the Cape.

John Shil stood on deck with Mr.
Martin by his side. He looked towards the shore, and though sea and land were both alike to him, he felt the same emotion that comes to everyone on board an outward-bound ship. In his mind's eye he could see the land fading into the distance, and the broad stretch of water before him. He could hear the throb of the engines, and realized that every stroke of the piston took him farther from home. He could even hear the flutter of waving handkerchiefs, and the last cries of those on shore, and then he heard the sob of a woman, going, perhaps, to spend her life in a land where she would never see her loved ones again.

He himself had nothing to leave,
save darkness, but the sense of parting on board a liner is magnetic, and even the loneliness soul throbs at the touch of it.

Then suddenly he heard a voice that he knew—just a few words to a cabin steward about some luggage.
He did not turn round, or speak,
or even move. But his hands gripped
the iron rail as though he would tear it from the deck.

It was the voice of Sir William Tankerlane.

Tankerlane was not aware of Shil's presence on the ship until she was two days out from Southampton.
Head winds and a rough sea in the Channel soon sent him to his cabin in the throes of sea-sickness, and for forty-eight hours he did not leave his bunk. Then he happened to peruse
the list of passengers and saw the name of Mr. John Shil.

His first impulse was to remain
out of sight in his cabin, and then he remembered that Shil could not see him, and he resolved to merely keep out of the blind man's way. He had only to be silent when his enemy was near to him, and all would be well.
He did not know that Shil had already heard his voice. It was indeed a most unfortunate circumstance which had brought them together on the same steamer. But there could be no violent scene between them if they did not meet. Tankerlane was not afraid of a blind and helpless man, but he knew that long months of loneliness and gloom might have driven John Shil to the verge of madness.

Shil, on the other hand, was well aware that Tankerlane was on board, and the circumstance did not make for that peace of mind which was one of the main objects of his voyage.

"Martin," he said to his secretary,
when they were alone in their cabin,
"there is a passenger on this ship
whom I know, for I heard his voice.
His name is Sir William Tankerlane. I want you to find out whether his wife is on board, where he is going to, and all about him. You must do this without attracting comment. Get into conversation with him, if possible, but do so at once, before he finds out that you have any connection with me."

The faithful Martin, although he was nothing of a detective, accomplished his task, and Shil learnt that Sir William Tankerlane was going to Africa to shoot big game, and that Lady Tankerlane was not aboard.

These two simple facts provided ample food for thought, and John Shil, who had left Black Hall to seek distraction from his thoughts of the woman who was lost to him, was compelled, by cruel chance, to think of her from morning to night. He wondered what had happened. Perhaps Laura had left her husband for good and all. Perhaps she had gone down to Essex. At any rate, they had parted, and probably for a long time.

He turned these thoughts over in the darkness, and they tormented his mind, till he almost resolved to send for Sir William Tankerlane and ask the truth. But he was able to control himself in this hour of uncertainty, and he kept silence. He knew that Tankerlane must be aware of his presence on the boat, and that the man was purposely avoiding him. The voyage would only last three weeks. It would be better that he could find out all he wanted to know when he returned to England.

And so, every day, the two men passed each other on the deck; and Tankerlane showed no signs of recognition, and Shil did not even know that his enemy was near to him, for he had told Martin never to mention the man's name again,
and Tankerlane's voice never came to him out of the chatter and laughter of the passengers.

Yet each man was tortured by a knowledge of the other's presence, and Tankerlane shrank from the very sight of the man whom Laura loved. And John Shil lived in a hell of suspicion and uncertainty.
Every footstep and every laugh
might mean the approach of Tankerlane. He detected the presence of the man in every sound, in the scent of every cigar. The whole atmosphere of the ship seemed foul and loathsome and even the salt breath of the sea choked him. There would be no pure air on the Canewdon Castle till the vessel reached Capetown.

And all the time the great ship
ploughed her way southwards, inexorable as fate, and as regardless of the loves and hatreds of the passengers as the circling of the earth itself. Her huge iron hull, and her gigantic engines, took no account of the small black ants which clustered between her decks. Southwards and ever southwards she drove through the calm seas—between two long furrows of foam, the embodiment of all the life that human skill and labour can fashion out of dead steel and iron—a thing almost with a soul, and with moods of her own,
as many a sailor could have testified.

The weather was glorious, and even Tankerlane would have enjoyed the passage under happier circumstances. Smooth seas and blue skies and soft breezes combined to make the voyage delightful to a crowd of laughing and flirting passengers.
There were no dangers ahead, no rocks, no sandbanks, no narrow channels; nothing but the broad,
deep sea, safe and smooth as a high road.

Yet there was death lurking in those safe and peaceful waters, a death that comes neither on the wings of the storm, nor in the snarl of waves, nor in the threatening overerhang of crags and boiling surf,
but a death that lies silent, unmarked, and unseen.

The months previous the Thora,
an outward-bound ship of 2,000 tons,
had been overtaken by a storm, had become water-logged, and had been deserted by her crew. She had carried a cargo of timber and iron rails,
and whereas the iron tried to sink
her, the timber just kept her afloat,
and she lay in the sea, without masts and with the water just awash with her deck—as solid as a rock and as nasty a thing as any vessel could expect to meet in the darkness.

CHAPTER XLII

The Derelict

"Please go to Sir William Tanker-
lane," said Shil to his secretary,
"and tell him that I should like the honor of his company in my stateroom after dinner for a smoke and a chat."

Mr. Martin left the large deck cabin, and when he had closed the door Shil rose from his chair to call him back. But he did not move forward or cry out and after a moment's hesitation he resumed his seat.

For several days he had been contemplating the possibility of this interview and had finally decided that it would be desirable if he could only control himself in Tankerlane's presence. He felt that he could not

ISAAC SLOCHIVER HAD NO CASE

Who Sued for Slander, was not Slandered Dec-lares Court; Baum Case Opened

NO STAR CHAMBER SESSIONS

Judge Higbee Will Not Give Out News, but Says All Court Records Will Be Open to Newspapers

I. J. Slochiver, prominent peddler and rapscallion, whom James Thomason called a thief, because he found a stove which he alleged had been stolen from his house had been sold to the Smith foundry by Slochiver, didn't have a case when the action to recover $500 for slander was brought yesterday in circuit court.

All of the evidence of the plaintiff was introduced, after which Circuit Judge E. C. Higbee decided not to let the case go to the jury, inasmuch as he could see no ground for action.

Slochiver alleged that owing to the accusations made against him by the plaintiff he was arrested and confined in the city police station over night, being subjected to great humiliation as a result, also that the defendant had told others that a fellow of his description had stolen his stove, while as a matter of fact he claimed he had purchased it from a woman living at the Thomason house.

Another Juror Fined
Judge Higbee yesterday assessed another juror a day's pay for not being on hand when the case of George Baum vs. the La Crosse and Onalaska Street Railway company was called. James C. Hogan of this city was the juror who was tardy in appearing.

Everything to be Open
To a newspaper man yesterday, Judge Higbee declared that he himself will not give out circuit court stories for publication, but that records and papers of the court will be open to inspection while he holds the bench on this circuit.

"Everything will be open and above board," he declared. "There will not be any star chamber sessions. Representatives of the press and others will always be admitted to my court and to examine the court records."

Baum Sues Street Railway Co.

George Baum, a north side butcher, is suing the La Crosse and Onalaska Railway company for damages for injuries which he alleges he sustained by being struck by one of the company's cars between North La Crosse and Onalaska last year. The case was called at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the jury examined. Attorney Frank Withrow appeared for Baum, while Attorneys Woodward and Lees will represent the traction company. The taking of evidence was postponed until today on account of the lateness of the hour and in order to give the attorneys time to prepare their cases.

There is a good deal of talk about women not getting their rights; but who sit at home in a cool room these hot afternoons in Mother Hubbards, with ice water handy? Is it the men?

EXPRESSED VIEWS WON'T HEAR CASES

Judge Higbee Will Call in Another Magistrate in Marquardt Suit for Damages

Owing to the fact that Circuit Judge E. C. Higbee had expressed an opinion in the case of Henry Marquardt vs. the La Crosse Gas and Electric company previous to his appointment to the circuit bench in this city, he has notified the attorney in the action which was to have been held today, that it must be held over until some other magistrate can be called in. The case was originally set for today.

Marquardt was injured two years ago by an explosion in the retort room at the company's power house, and has since been confined to his bed, helpless from paralysis. Marquardt is suing the company for damages in the sum of $40,000. He is represented by Winter, Esch and Winter, and Morris and Hartwell. Woodward and Lees and McConnell and Schweizer represent the Gas and Electric company.

Dr. C. H. Marquardt, who has been in attendance on Henry Marquardt since the accident at the power house, is also suing the company for recompense for his services as medical attendant. His case was also held over by Judge Higbee for the same reason. A. E. Bleckman, Jr., is attorney for plaintiff, while Messrs. Woodward and Lees represent the defendant company. The case has been appealed from the lower court.

If people with symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble could realize their danger they would without loss of time commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. This great remedy stops the pain and the irregularities, strengthens and builds up these organs and there is no danger of Bright's disease or other serious disorder. DROWNED COUPLE WAS NOT MARRIED

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 8.—Owing to the danger lurking in the waters of the St. Joseph river below the dam the police have not made any attempt to recover the bodies of Herman Lindemann, the young Chicago printer, and Ella Zisler, 18 year stenographer, Chicago, who were drowned here on the morning of the Fourth. It is expected that the bodies will come to the surface by tomorrow. It has developed that the couple were on their way to Elkhart to visit a friend of the drowned man but stopped off here and registered at a hotel as man and wife. They were due in Elkhart Sunday morning.

It was reported from Chicago that the couple had been married on this trip they having been sweethearts for years, it is said, but there is no record of a license having been granted them either in this city, St. Joseph, Mich., or Michigan City, Ind.

SOCIALISM THEME OF T. E. LATIMER

College Professor Will Give Series of Open Air Lectures Here July 12

Professor T. E. Latimer of the university of Illinois, a man who has "made good," raised upon a farm, worked in the western mines, by force of grit graduated from a western university, now spending his summers in bringing a message to all interested in the solving of the most vital subject and the supreme issue of the day, namely "The Labor Problem."

As a college professor and as a man he has shown himself in Milwaukee and other Wisconsin cities where he has been this season, to be sane, broad and capable of bringing conviction to all, hence affording a true plane for future united effort.

Mr. Latimer will hold a series of open air meetings for everybody at Cameron park, Fourth and King streets.

Do not fail to hear the first lecture, Monday evening, July 12th, at 8 p. m.

CHAUTAUQUA OPENS WITH BRYAN SPEECH

WAUKON, Iowa, July 8.—(Special.)—The Chautauqua opened with a rousing attendance, over a thousand tickets being sold. In the afternoon the meeting was opened by a few remarks by the general manager, Mr. Ellison. The Commonwealth quartet were very good and the lecture by Dr. Tanner was exceptionally fine. The great event of the day, however, was the lecture by Wm. J. Bryan in the evening. A delegation of prominent citizens went to the junction to escort Bryan to town.

The Normanna band was in town and at the depot. Mr. Beddow's "White Steamer" received the party and took them slowly through an immense crowd to the "Allamakee." After a concert by the C. W. quartet and two songs by our "sweet singer," Ella May Minert, Bryan gave his lecture on "The Prince of Peace." He had the largest audience ever gathered in Waukon. The tent will hold 2,000 people and then the sides were put up and in spite of the cold wet ground, the space to the outer canvas was filled with people and 3,200 tickets were taken.

Honors this afternoon were about equally divided between the lecture and the ball game at the fair ground. Waukon will soon be in a position to rival the Cubs. The score at the close was 2 to 1 in favor of Waukon.

Miss Daisy Robertson is visiting in the western part of the state.

Mrs. Edna Pettit-Burke and two sons are home from Chicago for a summer visit.

Mrs. J. C. Ltwis and children of Ridgeway are making their annual summer visit now to take in the Chautauqua.

Mr. E. C. Hall and daughter, Mabel returned Monday from their visit to Prairie du Sac.

The Seton Indian work is on and the town is full of "Little Indians."

The great surprise of last week was the selling of the "Waukon Standard" to John De Wild. He has been the foreman for a number of years. Robert Bruce May, the editor who sold, took the paper from his father and it had been in the May family 41 years. Mr. May had built up a good substantial paper, clean, sound and educational. It is hard to give up the "May Standard" but it has fallen into good hands and will continue to be as good as ever.

Mrs. A. J. Smith of Stockton, Ill., came Monday and surprised the home folks.

Mrs. Hattie Hunter of New Albin is visiting her friend, Miss Ethel Smith, during Chautauqua week.

Mrs. G. M. Dean starts today for Seattle for an extended visit.

Fred Robbins and bride came to visit his mother and sister.

Miss Laura Hinckley of Mt. Vernon, came to visit her sister, Mrs. L. A. Howe.

DEAF MUTE MAKES FLYING MACHINE

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 8.—Promising soon to be pressing the Wright brothers for honors in aviation Walter Zelch, a deaf mute of this city, confirmed the reports of a successful flight of his machine. The flight was made across the valley between Mount Washington and Duquesne Heights. On the return trip the steering bar balked and Zelch ran into a tree. The airship looks like a gigantic bicycle with wings.

The canvas planes are twenty-two feet from tip to tip and the propelling power is supplied by a high geared wheel in the rear operated by pedals and chain. The inventor is but 23 years of age and has accumulated considerable money from several mechanical devices which he has patented.

ALBERT H. SANFORD NORMAL TEACHER

Stevens Point Educator Will Be One of Staff of the New La Crosse Normal

Albert H. Sanford, teacher of history at the Stevens Point normal school ever since the organization of that school fifteen years ago, has been granted a transfer to the faculty of the new La Crosse normal school. Mr. Sanford will remove to this city immediately and report to Superintendent Fasset A. Cotton. Three other teachers at the same school have tendered their resignations and will seek positions elsewhere. They are Misses Josephine Fitzgerald, Marion Peak and Margaret Corbin. The resignation followed a difference with President Sims of the Stevens Point school.

BANGOR, WIS.

Miss Lena Meyer from Sparta visited her mother, Mrs. Margaret Meyer, Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Ella Stintzi was a La Crosse visitor Sunday.

Miss Elizabeth Miller spent Friday at West Salem.

Mrs. George Schumacher visited relatives at La Crosse Sunday.

Miss Crystal Baebler returned from Detroit, Mich., Sunday, where she graduated at the Thomas Normal Training school.

Miss Mollie Merlo who has been visiting her brother, D. C. Merlo, Caledonia, returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kneen are visiting friends at Minneapolis.

Mrs. Caroline Bosshard who visited her son Oscar and family at Mattoon, Wis., returned home Saturday.

Mrs. Sula Latch returned from St. Paul Saturday.

SPECIAL ACTION TO REPLACE "FATHERS"

Two New Aldermen Will Be Elected to Take Vacant Places in the Council

BARTL NO LONGER MEMBER

Mayor and City Attorney Take Action and Matter Will Come Up at the Meeting Friday

According to the ruling of Mayor Sorenson and City Attorney Doherty, Joseph Bartl is no longer an alderman. At the last meeting of the council the question of whether Mr. Bartl represented the Eleventh ward or not, came up, when a vote was to be taken on the saloon licenses, and the mayor decided that as the alderman no longer lived in the Eleventh ward, he was, by the statutes, not one of the city's aldermen. The city attorney stated this morning that he is no longer regarded as one of the "city fathers" because of his residence. This leaves another vacancy in the list of ward representatives, the city at the present time having but 19 aldermen.

No successor to the late Cyrus Snyder has as yet been elected, final action on the question having been postponed until after the meeting of the common council Friday evening. An ordinance will be brought up at this meeting providing for the election of aldermen and city officials under certain conditions. If the ordinance is adopted by the council, an alderman to succeed the late Mr. Snyder will be elected. Should the ordinance fail to pass the council, which is hardly probable, it will be necessary to call a special election for the purpose of electing the alderman for that ward.

It is expected that an alderman for Mr. Bartl's old ward will also be provided.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE AT WEST SALEM

The annual teacher's institute for La Crosse county will commence at the West Salem high school, Monday, July 19, and will continue for two weeks. Persons who are planning to teach in the county the ensuing year are expected to attend the institute the entire time. This will prove a splendid opportunity for any student, and especially the recent high school graduate, whether planning to teach or not. The tuition is free, the only expense connected with the school being the board and room of the student for the two weeks. Teachers' examinations will be held immediately after the session is completed.

The instructors in charge are: W. H. Cheever, state institute conductor, Milwaukee normal school; P. E. Kolb, city superintendent of the Oconomowoc schools; J. E. Hale, principal of the Baron county training school and county superintendent B. F. Oltman.

BISHOP SCHWEBACH STILL IMPROVING

The latest reports as to the condition of Bishop Schwebach are to the effect that he has passed the danger point and is getting along nicely. Inquiry at the local residence of the venerable prelate brought the news that no reports had been received at that place today as to the patient's condition, and from this it is presumed that he is improving, as had there been a change for the worse, those directly interested here would surely have been notified.

TWO DAMS TO BE BUILT IN BLACK

Engineers investigating the condition of Black river above this city which permits the water to escape into the sloughs and creates a low stage of water at the north side insufficient to carry off the sewage, will report that the matter can be remedied at a very small cost. A dam will be necessary at Hammond Chute and another at the head of Rice Lake. At the former place the dyke was cut to carry logs to the Mississippi. It is believed that with these repairs the river will resume its old channel and a good stage of water will be maintained below Onalaska.

YOUTHS LECTURED BY JUDGE CRONON

Fred Schweigert, Harry Grove and Archie Downey, arrested for creating a disturbance at the pool room of George S. Munyer, Syrian, 803 Rose street, on the Fourth, were severely lectured by Judge Cronon yesterday afternoon and the fine of $1 and costs was suspended pending better behavior. The boys claimed they were merely having a good time throwing fire crackers about and as the judge is himself fond of boys and firecrackers and the spirit of patriotism which marks the great holiday he was inclined to be lenient.

THINK ODD STONES ARE DIAMONDS

ABERDEEN, S. D., July 8.—Aberdeen is greatly excited over the exhibition by A. J. Kerkhen of a pocket full of stones resembling diamonds in the rough which he said he found in a rock quarry near here.

Some of the stones are of a dark brown color and will cut glass as readily as a diamond. They were found incased in a peculiar rock formation.

Samples have been sent to Toronto and New York for examination by experts.

SALOON AT ROCKTON ROBBED BY BANDITS

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., July 8.—(Special).—Two men entered the saloon of R. A. Adler at Rockton, Wis., stole $12 from the cash register and taking a dispatch box containing valuable papers escaped in a rig stolen from the barn of Van S. Bennett. Next morning a big revolver marked "R. F." was found in the road a mile from town and the team was found near the Hillsboro fairgrounds, where it is presumed they took the early morning train. The sheriff sent deputies, but the men have not been apprehended.

PETER'S THRONE IS AGAIN TREMBLING

BELGRADE, July 8.—Through the condition of suppressed excitement which characterizes the Serbian court it gradually became known that grave fears are entertained lest the capture of 250 Austrian soldiers on a Serbian island in the river Drina yesterday may lead to a revival of the Austrian-Serbian troubles which it will be impossible to stay. It develops that the fainting fit which caused King Peter to fall from his horse while riding in the Topchider park yesterday followed immediately the arrival of a courier with news of the Austrian soldiers on Serbian territory.

It is believed that King Peter believed the incident signaled the renewal of Austrian aggression which would endanger his throne and also his life. Although he has practically recovered from the seizure King Peter is half crazed with anxiety over the outcome of the affair.

THIRST BRINGS ON MENTAL INQUIRY

NEW YORK, July 8.—Champagne soup, champagne salad dressing, champagne as a beverage and finally champagne baths and champagne shampoos have brought Louis Voelker, a merchant, to Bloomingdale asylum on complaint of Josephine Voelker, his wife. Mrs. Voelker says that early this spring Voelker, convinced that he owned $3,000,000, began a career of "spendthrift dissipation." One session at Atlantic City cost him $3,000. At that time champagne flowed freely as water in Voelker's vicinity.

Mrs. Voelker says her husband's regular daily thirst destroyer consisted of six pints of champagne, a quart of cognac and ten milk punches.

FLIES AGAINST GALE.

NORWICH, Conn., July 8.—Captain Thomas B. Baldwin will tonight attempt an airship flight which he hopes will exceed the wonderful record made last night in his dirigible balloon. By making a twelve mile an hour gait in the face of a heavy gale and rising to an altitude of 2,000 feet, Baldwin last night set a new record.

places of safety where they can wait until the flood has receded. It is believed the crest of the flood has passed. Very slowly the water began to go down today after it had stood at its highest mark for more than an hour. The water is still ten feet deep in some of the streets and is at an average of six feet throughout the village.

ADD Floods Part

Four miles from the town and just beyond the edge of the flood the large rescue camp has been established. Here more than 100 people have been sheltered.

In the town itself 400 people have been quartered. They are in the big brick school building, one of the most substantial buildings in the town. Their quarters are on the third floor.

To Take Them Away.

While these people are temporarily safe, arrangements are being made to take them away before night to the camps outside the flood district.

The gravest danger that the people face is want of food and bed clothing. Provisions are being hurried from St. Joseph, the nearest point, but it will be hours before they can be conveyed to the shelter camps.

Seek Governor's Aid.

Officials here today endeavored to communicate with Gov. Hadley by telephone, but the message could not be sent over the crippled wires. It is expected the governor will send help.

Pattonburg is a sorry sight today. The houses in the eastern part are completely submerged. The muddy water of the flood has washed over others and here and there cottages, like little islands, raise their roofs in the wide stretch of water. Better buildings standing over the water look desolate and empty and only the tops of trees and telephone poles show.

Where the water is lowest only part of the first stories of the houses can be seen.

For miles the yellow current of the flood stretches from the top and the busy boats moving among the houses make the whole scene more desolate.

Take it Philosophically.

The people at the rescue camps seem cheerful in spite of the loss the town will suffer and the hardships that they have gone through. Few complaints are heard and many expressed thankfulness to the rescuers. The authorities here fear an outbreak of disease following the flood and plans are being made to make the camps as sanitary as possible.

One of the problems that confronts the relief parties is providing pure drinking water. The flood has poured a volume of polluted water into the wells and typhoid is feared. Relief is being hastened from all the nearby cities and it is expected the sufferers will be made comfortable by night. Clothing is being rushed of them and a considerable sum of money has been raised to be used in relief work.

The number of dead cannot be accurately estimated as yet. Various reports place the number at twenty, some much lower. The fate of a number of persons carried away by the flood is not known. Five men were swept away with a railroad bridge near Chillicothe late yesterday. Motor boats went in pursuit of the wreckage to which the men were clinging. Darkness came before the boats had overtaken the wreck.

The fate of the men is not yet known. Four men are missing at Pattonburg. It is believed that they are drowned.

Six people who live in the Grand river bottoms near Chillicothe were reported in danger. A rescue party went in search of them but could not find them. It is presumed that they are dead.

A farmer living alone near Gallatin was reported in danger. Rescuers found his cabin in 15 feet of water. His fate is not known. It is reported that some of the rescue parties are in danger.

Boats were scarce and some of the rescue parties used improvised rafts. These were found very dangerous and some of the rescuers were thrown into the floods or swept down the swollen streams clinging to wreckage of their raft.

Hundreds in Peril.

Hundreds of people are in peril today. At Pattonburg the latest report says a two foot rise in the Grand river flood has increased the peril of the marooned people. Late last night a brief message said that little had been done for those who were driven to roofs or held prisoners in upper stories of their homes. Hundreds of people there are in danger of drowning and infants and women are suffering from exposure and want of food.

Rain fell during most of the night. The situation at Trenton today is reported more serious than ever. Gallatin is suffering and Gallatin Junction is inundated.

Italians Wait in Terror.

ROME, July 8.—An entire army corps in small detachments is scattered throughout southern Italy maintaining order among the thousands who have fled from their homes because of the prediction of seismological experts that the severest earthquake Italy has ever experienced will occur today.

Meantime hordes of outlaws have taken possession of the deserted towns and villages, plundering the abandoned houses and wantonly destroying property.

Grave fears are entertained that the refugees may engage in rioting. No indications of the promised quake have appeared.

ARBITRATION OF TROUBLES DELAYED

Failure of W. J. Ferris to Return Causes Postponement of the Meeting

Owing to the failure of W. J. Ferris, the arbitrator appointed to look after the interests of the La Crosse City Railway company in its dispute with its employees regarding the wage scale, the schedule of working hours, and the reinstatement of Motorman Louis Thru, to return from Chicago, nothing has as yet been done towards settling the difficulties.

Fred H. Hartwell, the man selected by the employees to look after their interests, said that he had hoped to meet Mr. Ferris this morning, and that they might at least be able to choose the third man of the arbitration board. But the meeting will now be postponed until tomorrow.

Contrary to an announcement made in another publication, Mr. Hartwell said today that he will refuse to hear any evidence or take any action in the arbitration until the third member of the board is chosen. He said that the stipulation of the agreement between the men and the car company specifically provides for a board of three, and tells how they shall be chosen, and he does not feel that any other arrangement can be regularly made.

AERONAUT NEARLY KILLED IN FALL

WAUKEGAN, Ill., July 8.—Verne Yohn, an amateur aeronaut of Chicago, is in a hospital today as a result of falling a thousand feet last night when a guy rope which somebody had grown tired of holding and had tied to a post tore a hole in the balloon allowing gas to escape as it ascended. Yohn's wrists and ankles are broken and his back is injured, but it is believed he will recover.

HELEN RIMMERT SUCCUMBS TODAY

Helen, wife of Charles Rimmert, 2111 Park avenue, died at La Crosse hospital this morning at 2:30 after an illness of two weeks with a complication. She was thirty years of age and leaves only a husband.

The funeral will be held at 8 o'clock Saturday morning at the residence and at 8:30 from the Holy Trinity church. Rev. Father Jorres officiating and Fessler and Dahl in charge of the arrangements. Burial will be at the Catholic cemetery.

A. C. RADKE GOES ON TOUR OF THE WEST

A. C. Radtke, the district manager and deputy for the Fraternal Reserve association will leave on a vacation next week and will visit the Seattle exposition, Yellowstone park, Yosemite Valley, Colorado Springs and several other points of interest throughout the west.

He will return in September and be ready for renewed activity in the fraternal insurance work. He will leave his assistant deputies in charge of the field work during his absence.

BEVERLY, Mass., July 8.—Prof. Louis T. Moore, of Cincinnati, who it is understood, will spend the summer with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Taft, has arrived at the summer capital here. Mrs. Moore has been the constant companion of her sister, Mrs. Taft, ever since she was taken ill, and she will assume, it is believed, whatever social duties devolve upon Mrs. Taft during the president's stay at this point.

TROOPS TO QUELL STRIKERS

HALIFAX, N. S., July 8.—Troops will put down any further attempts at rioting around the mines of the Dominion Coal company, where the miners belong to the United Mine Workers of America are on a strike. Following the rioting yesterday at Reserve, Caledonia and Dominion, Judge Finlayson called for the soldiers. Today 500 of the regular soldiers stationed at Halifax under command of Col. Wadmore of the Royal Canadian regiment, left in a special military train for the scene of rioting.

MORGAN'S THREAT BEING FULFILLED

Nine Years Ago He Said He Would Destroy Union and But 8,000 of 60,000 Unionists Remain

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 8.—While the officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers say they have the financial and moral support of the United Mine Workers in their struggles against the "open shop" policy in the plants of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company, they declared today no sympathetic strike by the miners is anticipated.

Today a large number of cots and supplies of provisions reached the sheet mill at Sharon and uniformed officers continued to patrol the yard. A kitchen has been built at the Great plant at New Castle and today other preparations were made, indicating that the trust is preparing to make a desperate stand and that the last bitter struggle for the desertion of the union is now on.

Carrying Out Morgan's Threat.

Nine years ago this coming fall J. P. Morgan faced Theodore Shaffer, then president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, in the Morgan offices in New York. They were settling the great steel strike of 1901. Morgan, white with rage, turned to Shaffer and said:

"I'll smash your union for them. It will take me just four years. At the end of that time you'll not have a union man at work in the mills of my combine."

That was in October of 1901. Thursday, July 1, Morgan made good his word. But it had taken him nearly nine years, instead of four.

This handful of 8,000 Amalgamated men is all that are left of the 60,000 men that entered the first strike against Morgan's iron hand. If they lose these will be no more union mills in the trust.

There isn't a union man at work today in the mills of the steel trust, which employs 120,000 to 130,000 skilled workers in making iron and steel and tin, and turning out bridges and the skeletons of steel buildings, and everything from a big armor plate to the wire screens you use in your windows in fly time.

July 1, 8,000 sheet and tin mill workers struck against the order of the American Sheet & Tinplate company, a branch of the trust. In this strike the old Amalgamated association is making its last stand against utter extermination in the trust mills.

READY TO FINANCE MISSOURI PACIFIC

NEW YORK, July 8.—It is understood arrangements have been practically concluded for the financing of the Missouri Pacific Railway company, the negotiations concerning which have been under way for several months. The final details of the matter were arranged just prior to George J. Gould's recent departure for Europe. Some formalities yet remain to be completed, including the ratification of the detail by the directors of the Missouri Pacific who will act early in August.

According to trustworthy sources the deal is sufficiently large to cover the financial requirements of the road for several years. It will include the sale of $50,000,000 worth of bonds but whether at once or only half of this amount will be brought out this summer has not yet been revealed. The bond is being underwritten by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and an understanding has been reached by which that firm will continue to act as the financial backers of the railroad in the future.

DEATH BESIDES $200,000 FINE

MONTEREY, Mex., July 8.—The supreme court at San Luis Potosi has handed down a decision in the case of Parlo Gonzales, convicted and sentenced to death for the murder of Manuel Jituri, son of a wealthy American. In addition to confirming the death sentence imposed by the lower court, the supreme court orders Gonzales to pay $200,000 to the widow of his victim.

HIGHS WANT EASIER COLLEGE ENTRANCE

DENVER, Colo., July 8.—Interest in today's session of the National Educational association centered in the expected discussion of the protest by representatives of the high schools of the country against the strict requirements for admission to colleges. The high school men think the present requirements make the colleges absolutely dependent on the colleges and they wish the convention to go on record against this situation. This afternoon the new officers will be elected.

URNS BACK PAUPERS.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Aliens and naturalized citizens in the settlements of New York are planning a mass meeting to protest against the restrictions which have been placed on immigrants by a strict interpretation of the immigration rules at Ellis Island. In the eleven days from June 26 to July 6, 668 persons have been barred. This is due to Commissioner Williams' demand for a closer inspection and his order that immigrants must be provided with funds. Twenty-five dollars was set as a reasonable limit, although the amount is entirely left to the discretion of the inspector.

KILLS SELF WHILE WIFE BRINGS COWS

Farmer Who Suffered With Poor Health Shoots Himself Through the Heart

John Clary, a prominent farmer living between Fountain and Wykoff, Minn., arose from his bed and going into the cellar clad in the night robe shot himself through the heart with a single barrel shot gun while his wife had stepped out for a moment from her work of getting breakfast, to get the cows.

When her husband came downstairs, Mrs. Clary told him to go back to bed and she would attend to getting the cows. She stepped out and the little daughter heard her father say: "That's a good heart and if I do a good job that will put an end to me." She ran to her mother, but before the frightened woman could reach the house a muffled report was heard and rushing in she saw smoke issuing from the basement. Her husband lay dead upon the floor. Ill health is supposed to have been the cause of the suicide.

OFFERS SON, THEN SHE DRINKS POISON

CHICAGO, July 8.—Mrs. Clara Hopkins, 24, swallowed carbolic acid early today and is dying in the county hospital.

Leading a four-year-old boy she entered the offices of Foreman & Sons, coal dealers, and walking up to John Foreman, 25, said: "Here, you'll have to take care of your son." Foreman told her he was not the father of the child and would not care for it.

The woman then attempted to swallow the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid, but Foreman restrained her. Later, however, she bought more of the poison and drank two ounces.

CRAZED BY INSOMNIA ATTACKS HIS FAMILY

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 8.—Suddenly deranged after long suffering from insomnia Gustave J. Krause, 56, early today tied his son, 9, to a bedpost, ready for slaughter, beat his sleeping wife unconscious with the butt of a rifle and then pulling the trigger with his toe killed himself. The boy freed himself and escaped while Krause was beating his wife. Mrs. Krause later regained consciousness, staggered into the yard and made her way to the home of a neighbor, where she fell unconscious. She is now in a critical condition at a hospital.

WANT NAVIGATION ON MISSOURI RIVER

YANKTON, S. D., July 8.—The principal address at today's session of the Missouri River navigation congress was delivered by Gurdon W. Wattles of Omaha this morning. He spoke on "Missouri River Improvement from a Business Point of View," strongly urging unity of action in making the river navigable. Gov. Burke, of North Dakota, delivered an address along the same lines.

BELEATED FOURTH FATAL.

DULUTH, Minn., July 8.—A beleated Fourth of July celebration today caused the death of Clarence Everett, aged 8, of Hibbing, Minn., who was shot by his 5 year old brother. The boys were playing with a pistol and firing what they thought were blank cartridges. A ball cartridge was in the lot of blanks and when the younger boy fired it Clarence was instantly killed.

MRS. PATTEN DIES.

CHICAGO, July 8.—Mrs. Agnes Patten, 80, mother of James A. Patten, the wheat magnate, is dead at the home of her son at Evanston, Ill. Death resulted from the infirmities of old age and injuries received in an auto accident a year ago.

BRANDENBURG BAILED.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 8.—Broughton Brandenburg, magazine writer, charged with enticing his little stepson, James Shepard Cabanne III, of St. Louis, whom he smuggled out of town in a big basket and took to California, was released under $10,000 bail today.

TWO FLOOD WRECKS.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 8.—Two railroad wrecks are reported today as a result of the floods. A double-header freight with ten cars and two cabooses was overturned near Burlington Junction on the Burlington railroad. No one was killed.

A train is reported wrecked at Clearmont. The fireman is said to have been killed.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

When the blood becomes infected with the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, the symptoms are soon manifested. The mouth and throat ulcers, copper-colored spots appear, a red rash breaks out, the hair begins to come out, and usually sores and ulcers show themselves on different parts of the body. At the first sign of the disease S.S.S. should be taken, for the trouble is too powerful and dangerous to trifle with. If allowed to run on the tendency is to work down and attack the bones and nerves, and sometimes it makes a complete physical wreck of the sufferer. The disease can make no such headway if S.S.S. is commenced and used according to directions; its progress can be stopped, the poison removed, and health preserved. S.S.S. goes into the blood and removes the insidious virus, cleanses the circulation and makes a complete and permanent cure by driving out the cause. S.S.S. quickly takes effect on the blood, and gradually the symptoms disappear, the health is improved, the skin cleared of all spots, sores and blemishes, and when S.S.S. has thoroughly purified the circulation no trace of the disease is left. S.S.S. a purely vegetable remedy, cures Contagious Blood Poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, tested and proven for more than forty years. Home treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.

SUIT OVER $50 NOTE IN CIRCUIT COURT

The case of John Hadreas vs. Stavros Athanasios was to have been called this afternoon when court convened at 2 o'clock. Mr. Hadreas is suing Athanasios on a note of fifty dollars, which he claims to hold against him. The case was appealed from justice court. Some time ago Hadreas secured an attachment upon a restaurant conducted by the defendant on lower Third street. J. W. Snow, Jr., was appointed receiver for the defendant and Court Commissioner Raymond ordered the defendant to turn his property over to him. This he did not do, but Snow ejected him and took possession, only to be ejected himself in turn by Athanasios and Constable Louis Omerberg, who had papers warranting his action.

Omerberg and the defendant were then charged with contempt but they claimed that Snow was not a proper receiver as he had not qualified under the law. An injunction was granted by Judge Higbee last week against all of the parties restraining them from interfering with each other until the question of Snow's qualification could be decided upon by the court. Last Saturday Judge Higbee declared that Snow had not properly qualified, and that the defendant and his constable were not in contempt. The parties to the suit failed to appear, so the trial was postponed.

COOL COURT WITH "HOT" AIR SYSTEM

With all of the windows closed it is possible to keep cooler in summer time in the big circuit courtroom in the new courthouse than almost any other place in the city. The janitors of the building have a system which cannot be excelled for circulating cool fresh air through the building.

During the days when court is in session, the large fans which in winter time are used to force hot air through the furnace flues, are in summer run to blow cold air through the registers. An immense ice box, holding many large cakes of ice over which the air passes before it is forced into the pipes, furnishes the coolness.

As the registers in the courtroom are on the side walls about twelve feet from the floor, the cold air coming in causes a complete circulation of cool sweet fresh air.

ENGLISHMAN ROUTS DRUNKEN MUSICIAN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—"To hell with the king," sang a more or less inebriated musician in the orchestra of a local cafe early yesterday. The crowd had enjoyed the music and many steins had been sent up to cheer them. Some one had asked for "God Save the King," and the other musicians followed the suggestion of the first singer. There was a sudden crash of glass as a table was upset. Then the figure of a broad shouldered subject of Edward dashed through the crowd. A stiff uppercut sent the trombone player sprawling on the floor. A big boot went crashing through the bass drum. The other musicians fled and a small riot in which the waiters and guests joined followed.

When order was restored the Englishman was found to be W. F. A. Hood, a wealthy citizen of Vancouver, B. C., who had been sitting at a table in company with several millionaire clubmen of this city.

Hood's routing of the orchestra was accomplished so quickly and the victory so complete and undeniable that the police who arrived shortly afterward found nothing to do. No arrests were made.

DOCTOR SUICIDES

STAMFORD, Conn., July 8.—Dr. Louis D. Hirsch, son of a wealthy business man of Wilkesbarre, Pa., was found dead in his room in the Stamford hotel yesterday afternoon. He had turned on the gas. It is reported here that Dr. Hirsch's wife had begun divorce proceedings.

BELGIANS WIN RACE.

LONDON, July 8.—The Belgians captured the Grand Challenge cup in the final race at Henley today by defeating the crew of Jesus College, Cambridge, before a tremendous crowd which went home bitterly disappointed. The time of the race was seven minutes and eight seconds.

FIND DROWNED PAIR.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 8.—The body of Ella Zeisler, who with Herman Lindemann, of Chicago, was drowned Monday afternoon by going over the dam in the St. Joseph's river here, was recovered this morning. Later Lindemann's body was recovered. Both bodies were found immediately below the dam.

MYTHICAL AIRSHIP NOW A REALITY

VICTORIA, B. C., July 8.—An airship which scientists here say is almost a counterpart of the mythical aeroplane referred to in Herbert Quick's novel, "Virginia of the Airplanes," has been invented by W. Gibson, a Scotch inventor, living here, and many pronounce it as the longest step in the direction of aerial navigation yet taken.

Gibson claims to have experimented successfully with the machine, and declares he can fly to San Francisco from Victoria in less than five hours. The machine carries a 222 pound engine, which develops sixty horsepower. The most sweeping claim made by Gibson for the machine is that it embodies entirely new principles and carries a set of governors or balancers by which the ship rights itself in midair and does not need the delicate balancing necessary for other machines. Gibson even claims that these governors are so effective that if the machine is started upside down from the ground it will right itself automatically after it has risen a few feet.

SOLOMON OUTDONE BY MUCH WED MAN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—The police believe they have in Christian Johnson, a man of 65 years, a fair contender for the marriage record held by some of the patriarchs of the Mormon church and the sultan of Turkey. His memory about some of matrimonial ventures is hazy, he says, and he lost count at about the fifth record.

According to the local sleuths Johnson has a string of wives all over this country and even in Canada and dispatches have been sent to several eastern cities to find out if Johnson is the man wanted in several places for wife desertion.

Johnson admitted today that he is married to Josephine Threthway, a wealthy widow of Stockton, Cal., and Mrs. Henrietta Leopold of this city. Both women claim him and their contention led to his arrest.

FOREST FIRES RAGE.

DULUTH, Minn., July 8.—Dispatches from the Mesaba iron range today indicate that forest fires are endangering several villages in that vicinity and threaten to spread to the proportions of the fires which did such immense damage in the same country last September.

IS HERE FROM CANADA.

Mrs. L. Wolfe, of North Battleford, Saskatchewan, Canada, with her two children, is visiting at the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. Henry Fox, 1251 South Eleventh street. After a stay here of a couple of months she will visit her parents in South Dakota.

THE DAILY MARKETS

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks
NEW YORK, July 8.—There was a mixed tone in the trading during the first fifteen minutes with the majority of stocks showing losses ranging from small fractions to over one point but strength was again displayed in a number of issues including Southern Pacific, Rock Island and Inter-Met. preferred. There was some pressure evident against Washash preferred, Reading and the Southern railways. The industrials as a group showed fractional declines.

11 a. m.—A downward movement prevailed all through the list after the first few minutes with the supply of stocks coming partly from realizing sales and the putting out of short lines by the professional element and outside of the exchange. There was little support from any quarter around recently prevailing prices and a moderate pressure caused many losses ranging around a point. Union Pacific and Reading were prominent in this reactionary movement. Steel common yielded about a point and other industrials were generally sold at moderate fractional recessions.

Government bonds unchanged; others strong.

Noon—The market ruled quiet after the first hour with a disposition in evidence to wait for the publication of the government crop report before making any further commitments on either side of the market. Southern Pacific eased off a substantial fraction around midday, while nearly everything else in which there had been active trading remained practically unchanged.

2 p. m.—The action of the market after the publication of the government crop report was disappointing to the interests committed to the bull side, stocks being offered at concessions and little demand appearing from the important sources usually looked to to direct market movements.

The stock market closed weak.

Chicago Grain.

CHICAGO, July 8.—The wheat market was steady to 3-15c higher at the opening. Corn steady, light general trading. Oats trading light but firm and not nearly the interest shown that was shown yesterday, possibly awaiting the government report.

Noon—Wheat remained about the same during the forenoon. Oats eased off fractionally, corn advanced slightly.

Close—Wheat recovered the early loss and closed unchanged from the opening. Corn and oats strong.

S. Foat, Ripon; historian, Mrs. Cooling, Oshkosh.

FIRE PANIC IN MILWAUKEE JAIL

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 8.—The story of the most serious panic in the history of the county jail was not told until court opened yesterday morning when the prisoners were able to tell how one man was all but suffocated and how the entire force of deputies was necessary to subdue the frightened inmates late last night.

The sheriff's office made an effort to keep the story of the affair quiet, but failed. Michael Balki, of Chicago, smoked and set fire to his mattress. He was nearly overcome when the smoke was noticed by other sleeping prisoners. Yelling for help, the prisoners' cries were ignored because of the frequent outbreaks of drunken singing. Balki was all but dead in his cell when help was finally secured.

Many people with chronic throat and lung trouble have found comfort and relief in Foley's Honey and Tar as it cures stubborn coughs after other treatment has failed. L. M. Ruggles, Reasnor, Iowa, writes: "The doctors said I had consumption, and I got no better until I took Foley's Honey and Tar. It stopped the hemorrhages and pain in my lungs and they are now as sound as a bullet. O. T. Erhart."

TRAMPLED TO DEATH BY RUN AWAY HORSE

MILWAUKEE, July 8.—While standing on the sidewalk in front of her home at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Lizzie Schultz, aged 9 years, was run over and instantly killed by a horse that had run away from Harry B. Kampshulte. Her sister Mary, aged 15, who was with her, was kicked on the left knee by the horse and slightly injured, while Mrs. Anne Glisch and Anne, Willie and Louis Schultz narrowly escaped injury.

BRUTALLY ASSAULTS WIFE; KILLS SELF

LODI, Wis., July 8.—In a fit of insanity from which he is said to have been suffering for some time, George Knerzer, a farmer near here, made a murderous assault upon his wife and then killed himself. Two of his children were in the house at the time the tragedy took place.

FOSS GETS LIFE TERM
EAU CLAIRE, Wis., July 8.—Henry Foss, who killed his brother Joseph March 16, pleaded guilty to murder in the first degree. Judge O'Neill sentenced the prisoner for life.

Foss' attorney did what he could to dissuade Foss from pleading guilty, the attorney fearing the prisoner did not understand what he was doing.

But Foss declared he had consulted all his friends and made up his mind, and insisted on pleading guilty, although he declared he knew nothing of what occurred from the time he left a saloon just before the murder till next morning.

E. F. U. COLLECTOR GONE
BARABOO, Wis., July 8.—E. P. Dieter, a machine agent, collector for the E. F. U., and solicitor for the Defenders, has been missing since June 21. According to reports, Mr. Dieter was last seen at Kilbourn.

Everyone would be benefitted by taking Foley's Orino Laxative for stomach and liver trouble and habitual constipation. It sweetens the stomach and breath, gently stimulates the liver and regulates the bowels and is much superior to pills and ordinary laxatives. Why not try Foley's Orino Laxative today? O. T. Erhart.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

PLAYED "HAYWARD" ONE NEARLY KILLED

ST. CLOUD, Minn., July 8.—Boys in a vacant barn last evening undertook to put on an imitation execution of Harry Hayward in Minneapolis and almost caused the death of Frank Bachmann, one of their number. Bachmann was placed on a barrel, a rope tied around his neck and the barrel kicked from under him. Immediately after, the boys set upon another of their number, who was to have been put through the same proceeding, and forgot all about the so-called joke on Bachmann. The noise made by their chase after the second victim attracted several men to the place, who found Harry Hayward's impersonator at the point of death. He was hurriedly cut down and it was almost an hour before he revived.

DR. J. M. JORDAN FALLS OVER CLIFF

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 8.—Dr. C. M. Jordan, superintendent of schools of Minneapolis, hung suspended thirty feet above a pile of rocks, fully five minutes in front of his summer home, West Point, Lake Minnetonka.

Dr. Jordan had just lighted an illuminated triangle for his young daughter and in stepping out of harm's way, the eminent educator, blinded by the brilliant light, stepped over the precipice. In falling he caught everything that passed him, and a few feet from the top grasped the root.

He was drawn to solid earth again by a dozen willing hands.

MILL CITY MAN GONE AND SO HAS $175,000

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 8.—S. R. Norris, manager of the Minnesota Grain Indemnity company, Minneapolis, is missing and is believed to have gone away with $175,000 of other people's money.

Four hundred Minneapolis women were thronging about Norris' office in the Palace building, this morning. They were frantic with despair over the loss of their money.

Yesterday morning Norris visited several of the largest Minneapolis banks and drew out all the money he had there on deposit. He has not been seen since.

His method was to sell stock in "The Minn. Grain Indemnity company," corporation which the police say had no existence, but which was supposed to be dealing in grain.

LEAPS FROM BRIDGE; BODY IS RECOVERED

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 8.—The body of a man who made a sensational leap from the Wabasha street bridge Sunday afternoon was picked up at the foot of State street, West side, about 8 o'clock last night. There was a deep gash across the left wrist, inflicted by some sharp instrument. From the blood found on the railing it was supposed that the man had cut his throat, but the cut on the wrist was the only mark of the kind on the body.

The man has not yet been identified.

CARRIED OUT AGAIN WITH HER HATCHET

NEW ULM, Minn., July 8.—Carrie Nation, while on her way to lecture at the Chautauqua at Redwood Falls, stopped off here and entered two saloons.

She upbraided the proprietors for running a "hell hole" and a "disreputable joint."

One of them told her it was none of her business and ordered her out. She persisted in giving him a lecture about being engaged in "ruining homes" and told him that he was the "helpmate of the devil" and she had a perfect right "to fight the devil, even in a saloon."

ST. PAUL IS ACTIVE WITH ENDEAVORERS

ST. PAUL, July 8.—St. Paul is alive with Christian Endeavorers who are filling the hotels, boarding houses and private residences of the Saintly City and overflowing into the suburbs and even into Minneapolis, in attendance at the 24th international convention. All morning trains poured visitors into the union station from every part of the country, some of them bearing delegates from abroad. They were all met by members of the reception committee and turned over to the registration office, and then assigned to their stopping places.

ST. PAUL-ST. LOUIS RACE

BURLINGTON, Ia., July 8.—To promote motor boat racing in the middle west, Thomas H. Hughes, commodore of the Illinois Valley Yacht club of Peoria, has offered a purse of $500 for a race from St. Paul to St. Louis on the Mississippi river, open to all motor boats forty feet in length or under, belonging to any recognized yacht club in the United States.

HOMER, MINN.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cornwell of Pleasant Ridge spent a short time with friends here Sunday.

Mrs. E. M. Kimble visited with Mrs. E. C. Burns at Winona Friday and while there attended the afternoon session of the Chautauqua.

A number from here drove to Winona Monday evening to see the big display of fireworks which was indeed beautiful.

ENDORSE "SHOOTING CRAPS" FOR KIDDIES

SOME of the Homerites attended the celebration at Dakota Monday. Albert Whitlock of Winona visited his parents on Homer Ridge over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James May and son Leo and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Whitlock drove to Winona Monday to see the ball game, horse racing and other attractions incidental to the Fourth of July.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Tainter went to Winona Sunday afternoon to hear the lecture sermon by Dr. George R. Stuart. Southland's evangelist-preacher. They also attended the sacred concert by the Royal Hungarian orchestra, in the evening.

The picnic held in Withrow's grove the Fourth of July was well attended.

Hart Gardiner of New York has been visiting relatives here the past week.

Mr. Swet of Dakota, Minn., spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Trepus were Winona visitors Monday.

The small boy enjoys coasting, but the average man can go down hill fast enough without a sled under him.

DENVER, Col., July 8.—Shooting craps is all right. The National Educational association has been asked to endorse the game.

Luther Gulick, president of the play ground association of America, in yesterday's session of the N. E. A. convention advocated this dice game as a "harmless pastime for the city boy who is limited to a small space in which to play." His address drew forth considerable discussion.

It developed today that the association faces a serious financial problem which many think threatens the organization's existence. The number of delegates registered since the convention began is only 4,000 and not nearly enough money has been raised to meet expenses.

San Francisco is the chief candidate for next year's convention. The election of officers will be held tomorrow.

This is the glad season of the year when flies are almost as plentiful as insanity experts at a millionaire's trial.

Health and Beauty Answers

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

V. G. M.: I have constantly advised against the use of hair bleaches and dyes. Even did I favor their use, I would hesitate to give you a formula. I think it perfectly scandalous that you, a woman of 51 years of age, should desire to marry a young man 22 years old. And I believe right-minded men and women everywhere will agree with me. I would advise you to forget him and seek a mate more suitable.

Nellie R.: (1) I think you are foolish to worry about a few pounds of extra flesh, but if you fear that your waist line will disappear entirely, go to your druggist and get 4 ounces of parnotis, take it home and dissolve it in a pint of hot water. Take 1 tablespoonful 3 times a day, before meals. Parnotis makes superfluous fat disappear. The correct weight for a girl of 5 ft. 7 in. tall is about 148 pounds. (2) When a druggist tells you that he has not in stock any article I name in these formulas and recipes, tell him he can get it from his wholesaler. I never advise the use of any ingredient that is not on sale in almost every first-class drug store.

Jennie S.: If your hair is falling out and your scalp scaly with dandruff, apply this home-made quinine hair tonic once or twice a week and watch your hair grow in long and abundant. Dissolve in ½ pint of alcohol 1 ounce of quinine and add ½ pint of cold water. Rub well until absorbed by the scalp and hair.

Miss Lane: Plenty of good lather is an essential to the success of any shampoo. Some soaps that lather well make the hair brittle and hard. It is better to use plain cantrox for shampooing purposes. Simply dissolve a teaspoonful of cantrox in a teacupful of hot water; stir well until it is all dissolved; then take your shampoo by pouring the mixture on the hair and rubbing in well. It will cleanse the scalp thoroughly and has a tendency to make the hair soft and fluffy.

Mrs. G. P.: If you have a sensitive and soft skin I would advise you to use a complexion jelly instead of cold cream. If you wash in warm water always put a dash of cold water on the face afterwards, as this will make the flesh and skin firmer in texture. You can make a complexion cream jelly at home by putting in a fruit jar half a pint of cold water, 1 ounce of alomozin and 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine; stir briskly for a few minutes and let stand until it becomes a thick cream jelly. Use it for massaging and it will thoroughly cleanse the pores, and the dust and grime will roll out and off the skin. It removes blackheads, freckles and tan, clears the skin and will make large pores small. You can use this alomozin jelly in perfect confidence that it will not cause the growth of superfluous hair, for while it is soothing and healing and keeps the skin smooth, moist and pliable, it contains no oils or fats.

Dolly M.: (1) In addition to causing a headache, a tight neckband will often give the eyes a dull, "fishy" look. If your eyes lack expression, are dull and lifeless, and there is no strain upon the throat, you apparently need a strengthening eye tonic, which you can make by dissolving 1 ounce of cryotes in a pint of water. Drop 1 or 2 drops in each eye whenever needed to keep the eyes bright and shining. This eye tonic will give relief when the eyes are tired, inflamed or sore, and it is an aid to those who wear glasses. (2) Do not sleep in a room with a light burning, as it is bad for the eyes.

Florence E.: To prepare a complexion beautifier that will make the skin soft, white and smooth, put 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine and 1 ounce of supramax in ½ pint of boiling water and let stand until cold. Apply to the hands, forearms and face with the palm of the hand and continue rubbing the skin where applied until dry. Several of my friends have told me that this supramax wash is particularly effective for sallow, dark and oily skins. It is much less expensive than readymade face washes.

Myrtle J.: In massaging wrinkles use the tips of the fingers and thumb, always working across the lines; never follow the lines of the creases.
